Dear Mr B. Wolf,

I am writing on behalf of ST's solicitors and Co. I have heard you have been petting the vulnerable Three Little Pigs as you have been blowing down the clients properties.

First of all, trespassing is illegal and damage to personal property illegal which means we can take you to court for not just one, but two reasons of breaking the law.

If you are going to break the law you will go to court and get arrested. You have also had a massive effect on the Three Little Pigs personal, they are all scared to the point where the clients won't leave the property.
