Rocky's Journey

Rocky was clinging onto a mountain when rain and wind made him tumble down the mountain. When Rocky reached the foot of the mountain, he got kicked by a jogger, then got stood on by sheep and then pushed into the river by the wind. While the river rushed, Rocky along, he started to erode. After a few months Rocky's travels came to an end, at a beach. There were a few other rocks at the beach too. They decided to call him Peter the pebble.

Rocky's Journey
 Rocky was clinging onto a mountain when wind and rain came.
 The wind and rain made him tumble down to the foot of the mountain.

"I hope I don't fall!"

Aaahhh! Help!

When Rocky had got to the foot of the mountain, he got kicked by a jogger, then stood on by sheep and then pushed into the river by the wind.

While the river rushed, Rocky along, he started to erode.

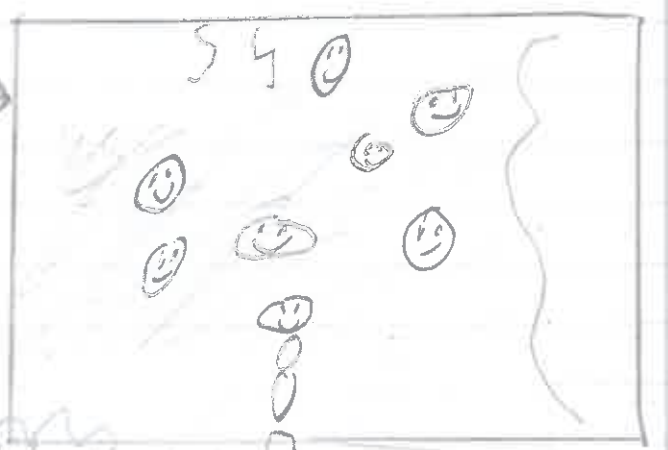

OOWWW!

OH-NO! A WATER-FALL!

After a few months Rocky's travels came to an end, at a beach.

There were a few other pebbles there too. They decided to call him Peter the pebble.

This is a cool beach!

A great sequence of events describing Rocky's journey to His Pebbles!
